WHO WE ARE

THE SOCIETY OF CLINICAL RESEARCH ASSOCIATES (SOCRA)

is a non-profit, charitable and educational membership organization committed to providing education, certification, and networking opportunities to all persons involved in the clinical research community. SOCRA began as the premier educational organization for oncology site coordinators and has emerged as a leading educational organization for clinical researchers in all therapeutic areas, supporting industry, government and academia.

Since our incorporation in 1991, SOCRA has been through many changes, all of which were important contributors to our growth. The lack of available educational opportunities for site based coordinators and the thirst for information resulted in an organization founded by creative and forward thinking leaders. Today, the organization has realized membership growth and program expansion exceeding its expectations.

The most important factors in our success over the past years have been our membership support, educational programming and certification program. Innovation and investment of skill and knowledge have resulted in an exceptional organization with expertise and understanding in providing educational programming and member services. The quality of our programs and educators is unparalleled.

Our educational programming has been wonderfully successful as has our certification program and our noteworthy Annual Conference. We are committed to developing and providing new and innovative approaches to learning. We intend to explore new educational opportunities and to maximize those opportunities for future success.
